

BEHAVIORAL HEALTH SERVICES CONTINUED INCREASES IN 2015

After another increase in 2015, more New Mexicans than ever before are getting the mental health and/or substance abuse services they need.

In fiscal year 2013, 87,373 New Mexicans received behavioral health services. In 2015, that number increased to 153,031.

This represents a 75 percent increase from 2013, which means more New Mexicans are receiving behavioral health services than ever before.

Source: New Mexico Behavioral Health Collaborative Performance Measures, 2Q FY16